

Video Wills

Video Wills

Individuals who have property and wish to distribute it at the time of death, may choose to make a will. A Video Will, where the Will maker reads his/her Will out loud before a video camera, can help avoid a Will contest by showing that the Will maker was competent and followed proper signing requirements during its creation.